ARTHUR B. LANGFORD FOR SHERIFF.

[East San Jose Post]

If present indications count for anything Arthur B. Langford will be elected Sheriff by an overwhelming majority. There are a number of good reasons for this prediction. In the first place he is extremely popular among all classes of people, and if we mistake not he will receive such an ovation throughout the campaign that will cause his opponents to revise their figures. If there was any doubt as to his election at first that doubt has certainly been dissipated by the manner in which some of his opponents have very unwisely attempted to injure his cause by circulating false reports relative to him in connection with his deceased father, the late "Bob" Langford. These reports are thoroughly untrue and there can only be one result to such tactics—the complete vindication and overwhelming election of Arthur Langford—a man against whom nothing can be said. The election four years ago should be a warning to those who stoop to do this kind of politics. We are confident that Sheriff Ross will not countenance the use of these scurrilous stories set afloat by some of his adherents.

Then Langford is eminently qualified for the place. He is not so young as his opponents would have you think. He was born in 1878 in Butte county, California, in a log cabin, therefore can claim to have come from the common people, and as Abraham Lincoln said, the Lord must have loved the common people for he made so many of them. Mr. Langford graduated from the San Jose High School in the class of '97. He entered the Sheriff's office on August 1, 1901, being then past 23 years of age. He served for four years and three months, leaving on November 1, 1905, to enter business for himself. Most of this time he served under the able management of his father, and during the last year of this father's incumbency, when illness kept the Sheriff away from active duties, Arthur was in reality the Sheriff. This four years experience made him familiar with every detail of the office and outside work, which at this time makes him a splendidly qualified person for the position which he seeks.

Another qualification which Arthur Langford possesses is that has progressed with the development of the science of sanitation and we have kept pace with the improvements. Have you? Or is your bathroom one of the old fashioned, unhealthy kind?

If you are still using the "closed in" fixtures of ten years ago, it would be well to remove them and install in their stead, snowy white "Standard" Porcelain Enameled Ware, of which we have samples displayed in our showroom.

A "Standard" Modern Bathroom will add a wealth of health to your home and will naturally increase its selling value.

If you will call we will talk the plumbing question over with you, and will give you the booklet, "Modern Home Plumbing," which contains much that you should know.

of being thoroughly familiar with all the roads, lanes, mountain trails, cross-cuts, etc., which is extremely necessary to know when hunting criminals. His father having been a cattleman, Arthur has spent much time in the saddle over mountain ranges and valleys of this section, so in this regard he knows the country well.

"Bob" Langford at the last election was elected as an independent and his election ought to be considered a majority of over 3,000 for Arthur. He spent his own money, went in the office unpledged. When he died a petition containing over 1500 names of the best citizens of the county was presented to the Supervisors asking that body to appoint Arthur to his father's place, as was done in the case of Barney Kell. This they did not do. We believe under the circumstances that the voters of the county will rally in surprising numbers to his support. He is a Republican in national politics, but the United Labor Party and the Democratic Party have each nominated him, which with his large circle of friends is sure to place him in the Sheriff's office, which he richly deserves.

The saloons of East San Jose closed their doors on last Sunday night and those places have been closed tighter than a drum ever since. We are glad to know that the proprietors of the saloons desire to abey the law, and the people of this community are indeed fortunate over the happy outcome of this matter. Now it is in order for the people to get behind every movement which tends toward the upbuilding of the community. Let us make it a better and greater East San Jose.—Post.

We heard a prominent Republican lawyer say last night at the United Labor Party rally that "he would consider it a calamity to have Campbell defeated for District Attorney under the present circumstances." It would be a mighty poor reward for a man who has dared to do what he thought to be right and honorable. By all means keep Campbell where he is.—Post.

EDITORIAL BREVETIES.

The Republicans will find it hard work convincing the country that Taft cuts no figure in the campaign this year.

It will be a joke on the people who are sneering at Hearst's candidacy, if they find it necessary to count him out again.

Anyone who attended that Hearst gathering in Carnegie Hall, N. Y., would need no further proof that "money talks".

Never appreciated how big the Secretary of War is, till we read the head lines, "War Ends as Taft Starts for Cuba".

A number of people have remarked that Secretary Taft has a great deal of "get up' about him, especially when he is down.

There used to be an old saying that "as goes Maine so goes the nation," but the G. O. P. would like to forget it for a while.

Pennsylvania has a surplus of $11,500,000 in the treasury which may explain why the State campaign is hotter than usual this year.

While Senators Foraker and Dick were as cordially endorsed by the Ohio convention, as President Roosevelt, it is thought that some of the delegates voted with their "fingers crossed".

Possibly a speech advocating government ownership of all fish ponds, would have brought Grover Cleveland right up out of his trance.

Mr. Bryan is willing to admit that the administration has scared the trusts some, but continues to think he could scare 'em even more.

Uncle Sam is willing to receive suggestions as to what he shall do with all the bad boys of whom he seems to have been appointed guardian.

This time the rebellion in Cuba will have to be put down without the aid of the Rough Riders, as they are all busy holding down government jobs.

Some of the "securities" in the defunct Stensland bank were found to be blank notes. The directors must have locked blank too, when they discovered them.

A writer describes New Zealand as a "remarkable country which has no crime and has abolished poverty". Seems impossible to conceive a land without politics.

Stensland's confession that it took him ten years to steal $500,000 doesn't improve the looks of the eagle-eyed bank examiners who took longer than that to find it out.

Mr. Chas. E. Littlefield, of Me., goes back to Congress, but late photographs seem to convey that somebody threw something worse than a scare into the Maine Statesman.

Another unfailing sign that winter is approaching, is furnished by the report that there exists "a shortage of coal cars". The consumer knows just what that means.

Every business man should have the 300 simplified words on his desk, and see that the stenographer and typewriter doesn't work off a few of her own that don't bear the Government stamp.

MISS JESSIE PARKMAN.

An Efficient Teacher Who is Fully Qualified to be County Superintendent of Schools.

In nominating a woman for the responsible position of County Superintendent of Schools the Republican party of Santa Clara county has simply placed itself in line with a policy that is being generally adopted in many of the States, and which is very likely to become a universal custom in the not remote future. That the course is a wise one is attested by the practical results obtained wherever it has been applied; and it must be evident that these results would not follow unless the policy itself were based in reason and on sound principles. Long experience in the progress of education in this country has demonstrated that woman is the natural and most efficient teacher of children, for the love, care and instruction of the young is a mother-instinct that develops early with the gentler sex, as vividly illustrated in the affection of children for dolls, and the solicitude the little ones show for these objects of their love. It is not surprising, therefore, that the male teacher is rapidly being eliminated from the schools, and that everywhere the woman teacher predominates. The survival of the fittest is as inevitable in this field of life as in any other, and it has been indutiably demonstrated that the fittest sex to instruct and train children is woman.

Add to this instinctive love of children and expert training, such as may be had in our State Normal School, and we have the model teacher, and it certainly should follow logically that a model teacher, after some years of direct practical experience in the school room, should become fully qualified to serve as Superintendent of Schools.

On broad and sound grounds, then the Republican convention did nothing unusual or unwise when it nominated a young woman for Superintendent and its selection of Miss Jessie A. Parkman for the position was particularly judicious; for if there is one woman in Santa Clara county who is fitted by nature, character, study, practice and special qualifications for the work of the Superintendent's office, that woman is Miss Parkman. And this can be said without in any way depreciating the ability and high standing of scores of women teachers in this county.

Miss Parkman has been a teacher for eleven years, and from the very beginning her standard of excellence has been unusually high. She began with a profound respect and love for her profession, a love that has not grown weaker, but more intensified with her wider mental growth and experience; and although the honor of a nomination for Superintendent came to her unsolicited and as a surprise, it is not strange, considering her lofty educational ideals and honorable ambition that she has accepted the situation with admirable good sense and proposes to conduct an energetic campaign for election. In an interview recently with a San Jose newspaper representative Miss Parkman said:

"Really, I feel very enthusiastic and am delighted with the way the people thus far have received my candidacy. The suggestion that I should make this race came upon me quite as a surprise, but I am in it, and I propose to do all I can to win success. It is all new to me, and I have much to learn, but I am receiving suggestions every day that are helpful. I have already begun to make plans for my campaign. I want it to be lively, but to be free from any objectionable features. I am not fighting any one, but I should like the position, and I expect to win. During the campaign, I shall give up my work in the Longfellow school, before entering upon the larger sphere of work which I expect to be privileged to take up."

That is a very modest, but at the same time a very determined statement and after reading it no one can doubt that Miss Parkman will prove fully capable of looking after her own interests in a campaign in which all the candidates except herself are men. Miss Parkman is capable, efficient and energetic; she ought to win, and we believe she will.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

East San Jose is to be congratulated upon the fact that such men as Messrs. Hurlbert and Dick, have undertaken to champion their cause, through such an admirable sheet as the East San Jose Post. Their motto being—"Poost—don't knock."—Morgan Hill Times.

Edward "Happy" McCollum believes that he holds the record for prune picking. He has been working for Mr. J. Roxburgh of the Orchards, and picked 60 boxes per day for ten days. Six hundred boxes for ten days is a big record. For ten days and a half more he averaged over fifty boxes per day.—Gilroy Gazette.

The San Francisco Labor Council has put Hearst in a position that will cause him more than a bad half-hour before he finds a solution. It demands that he withdraw Longdon; it asks Gompers to demand it, and it asks the Democrats to exert every influence on the New York Democracy to compel Hearst to respect their wishes.—Palo Alto Times.

Cars for the new Palo Alto motor line are now being built for the Hanchett Company in St. Louis and will be ready for delivery at the time of the completion of the road. Col. Draper stated this forenoon that they would be of the standard design, with open sections on both ends and a closed compartment in the center. They will be 40 feet in length and similar to those now operated by the United Railways of San Francisco.—Palo Alto Times.

This is to be a campaign free from personal abuse of candidates no matter how much such abuse is deserved. That is as it should be; if nothing good can be published concerning a candidate, just let him alone altogether; just let it go in telling why a candidate should be elected, what merits he possesses, and what qualifications peculiarly adapt him for the office to which he aspires. If every newspaper in Santa Clara county will adhere strictly to that method the campaign will end with no one sore toward his neighbor or opponent and everyone will be happy whether elected or not. Stick to the Golden Rule in politics with a greater tenacity even than you do in your religious work.—Los Gatos Mail.

Symphony Concerts.

The series of Symphony Concerts in the Greek Theater by the University Orchestra has opened most auspiciously. There were no less than 2200 people at the opening concert, and at the second, the attendance was 2503, or practically double the attendance at any Symphony Concert ever given in California up to the time of the formation of the University Orchestra a year ago. The sixty professional musicians who make up the Orchestra are the best orchestral players in the San Francisco region, and under the skillful direction of Dr. J. Fred Wolle, conductor of the University Orchestra and Professor of Music in the University, they have attained a responsiveness spontaneity and ensemble which make the Orchestra seem like one great and splendid musical instrument. The third Symphony Concert of the present series will be given in the Greek Theater at 3:30, on Thursday afternoon, October the eleventh.

Wounds, Bruises and Burns.

By applying an antiseptic dressing to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflamation sets in, they may be healed without maturation and in about one-third the time required by the old treatment. This is the greatest discovery and triumph of modern surgery. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness and prevents any danger of blood poisoning. Keep a bottle of the Pain Balm in your house and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering such injuries entail. For sale by Farmers Union, agents.

Illicit Liquor Selling.

The ingenious and effective method devised by our present district attorney, James H. Campbell, to suppress illicit liquor selling should draw to his support all those who were struggling to accomplish in individual instances a purpose which his plan secured at one stroke throughout the county. Before that, the prosecution of illicit sellers was attended with extreme difficulty and annoyance. The attorneys for the accused forced many ladies of the W. C. T. U. to attend the trials under subpoena and made the proceedings as irritating as possible for the purpose of disheartening the prosecutors. It was hard to get a conviction and from the nature and bitterness of the struggle, harder still to hold on to it. The conviction did not end the illicit sale of liquor. The vendor gave bail and went right along with his unlawful business but more cautiously, and a long time would elapse before an opportunity for another arrest would come.

The means which the law supplied were annoying in operation and inadequate to the end. Recognizing this Mr. Campbell devised a plan which not only cut off all annoyance and trouble, but secured the suppression of illicit liquor selling throughout the county without expense and without the need of prosecution.

He framed an ordinance which made it a crime to display a liquor sign or have a federal license or the appliances of a liquor dealer without holding a county license. The party so offending would have his equipment seized, held as evidence and finally destroyed. Mr. Campbell urged the enactment of this ordinance upon the Board of Supervisors and as the Board delayed action, petitions were sent in from Saratoga, from San Jose and from other parts of the county, the Grand Jury was persuaded to urge its passage, and a lapse of several months the ordinance was passed. All that was hoped for from it was realized. It crushed all resistance. The moment it went into operation the illicit dealers pulled down their signs and went out of business. They would not run the risk of forfeiting their stock of liquors, so they gave up the struggle. This was Mr. Campbell's work and will be gratefully remembered on election day by all who longed for the result which he achieved.
